The Social Security Offsets – WEP and GPO

The Windfall Elimination Provision

The Windfall Elimination Provision (WEP) reduces the Social Security benefits of local, state and federal retirees who worked in Social Security-covered employment (e.g., private-sector jobs) and who also receive a government annuity from their non-Social Security covered government employment.

Specifically, the WEP applies to federal retirees who began their federal employment prior to 1983 and are covered by the Civil Service Retirement System (CSRS). Under CSRS, federal employees do not pay the 6.2 percent payroll tax toward Social Security, and therefore, do not earn any Social Security benefits based on their federal work. The WEP does not apply to federal employees covered by the Federal Employees Retirement System (FERS), as these federal employees pay the 6.2 percent payroll tax and therefore earn Social Security benefits based on their government work. The WEP also applies to state and local government retirees who likewise did not pay Social Security payroll taxes in connection with their government employment, similar to CSRS.

Normally, Social Security benefits are calculated using a progressive formula in which an individual’s Average Indexed Monthly Earnings (AIME) are multiplied by three progressive factors – 90 percent, 32 percent and 15 percent – at different levels of AIME, resulting in the basic monthly benefit. In 2022, the first $1,024 of AIME is multiplied by 90 percent, then added to AIME over $1,024 through $6,172, multiplied by 32 percent, then added to AIME over $6,172, multiplied by 15 percent. Under the WEP, the 90 percent factor is reduced to as low as 40 percent.

As of December 2021, the WEP affects about 2 million beneficiaries, including 1.9 million retired workers, the remaining affected persons were disabled-worker beneficiaries and eligible family members of retired- or disabled-worker beneficiaries. In 2022, the WEP can result in a monthly benefit that is $512 lower than under the regular benefit formula. This unfair reduction causes a disproportionate reduction in benefits for workers with lower monthly benefit amounts than those with higher benefit amounts.

The Government Pension Offset

Legislation was enacted in 1977 to prevent government retirees from collecting both a government annuity based on their own work in non-Social Security covered employment and Social Security benefits based on their spouse’s work record. The new law became effective with government employees who were first eligible to retire in December 1982. The law – known as the Social Security Government Pension Offset (GPO) – provides that two-thirds of the government annuity offsets whatever Social Security benefits would be payable to the retired government worker as a spouse (wife, husband, widow, widower). Take the example of a spouse who receives a civil service annuity of $900 per month based on his/her own earnings and applies for a Social Security annuity of $200 per month. Under the GPO, the $200 benefit would be offset by $600 of the spouse’s annuity, leaving the spouse with only $300 of Social Security benefits. Security widow(er)’s benefit of $500. Two-thirds of his/her annuity, or $600, totally offsets the Social Security widow(er)’s benefit. Therefore, he/she receives no widow(er)’s benefit from Social Security.

As of December 2021, the GPO affects 723,970 beneficiaries. Of those affected by the GPO, 48 percent are widows or widowers, and 52 percent are spouses.¹ In addition to Civil Service Retirement System (CSRS) annuitants, the GPO affects thousands of state and municipal retirees, as well as teachers and police officers whose work is not covered by Social Security.

Current Legislation

NARFE is a leader in the effort to repeal or reform the WEP and GPO, and legislation introduced in the 117th Congress would achieve significant relief for those impacted by the provisions.

H.R. 82 and S. 1302, the Social Security Fairness Act

The Social Security Fairness Act, H.R. 82 and S. 1302, introduced by Rep. Rodney Davis, R-IL, and Sen. Sherrod Brown, D-OH, would fully repeal the WEP as well as the Government Pension Offset (GPO). NARFE supports the legislation, and we will continue to work with our allies in the 117th Congress to advance this legislation to provide meaningful relief to federal retirees affected by the unfair penalties.

H.R. 2337, the Public Servants Protection and Fairness Act

The Public Servants Protection and Fairness Act, H.R. 2337, introduced by the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, Richard Neal, D-MA, would provide some relief from the WEP for both current and future retirees. While the legislation does not fully repeal the WEP, it represents a significant improvement over the status quo for CSRS retirees unfairly penalized for their public service—and for this reason NARFE supports the bill. Specifically, the bill would do the following:

- Individuals turning age 62 before 2023: Under the bill, individuals receiving WEP-reduced Social Security benefits based on their own work record would receive a rebate of $150 per month.

- Individuals turning age 62 in 2023 or later: These individuals’ WEP penalty would be subject to either a new formula or the current formula, whichever provides a lower penalty. The new formula would calculate benefits based on the proportion of a worker’s career earnings in Social Security-covered jobs to total earnings in covered and non-covered jobs.
